

JUBILEE ROUNDUP

Whilst disappointed that the prediction of a wet Jubilee Sunday did in fact materialise, the Bank Holiday 'weekend' did get off to a cracking start with the Beacon Lighting on a glorious Thursday evening.

A mass community turnout for the lighting, possibly enhanced by the prospect of the free hot-dog and bacon bap barbeque, was a great community start to the festivities, and possibly memory making for the youngsters...

Even as we write this piece though, barely two weeks after all the pomp and pageantry of the events over the jubilee (and, in part possibly due to the uncharacteristically summery weather we are enduring now), the feel-good 'jubilee effect' and the hurried restructuring of the Sunday has dimmed.

The looming cost of living crisis, the political stumbling and the on-going conflict in Ukraine have soon replaced the feel-good atmosphere of celebrating the Queen's monumental reign with a return to mundane reality. Hopefully something of credit has been gained within the community.

We are pleased, however, to note that the dreary weather on the Jubilee Sunday didn't altogether deter those who participated in Derek's Walkabout Quiz - see the results below...

DAMAGED MINDS...

Last month we focused on the fantastic work, enabled by a grant kindly awarded by the Mick George Community Fund, that has been carried out recently by our local volunteers and The Conservation Volunteers to enhance and extend the village's Millennium Wood community woodland. So, it is particularly sad that this month we have to report that the site has recently seen a number of incidents of petty vandalism, theft and criminal damage. The damage, in particular the wrecking of the picnic bench (pictured, left and below), was not a casual assault, rather the result of a sustained attack.

The Bugle pages are not the place to speculate on the culprits or reasons for these mindless incidents but we do urge the community to visit the site as much as possible and take note any suspicious activity.

GETTING OUR SKATES ON

Hopefully by the time you read this the replacement of the skatepark will be completed. The costs associated with maintaining the 20 year old equipment and keeping it safe were becoming unsustainable. After much deliberation the Parish Council agreed to replace the worn out equipment with a more durable facility that should be more suitable for a wider age range of users. Gone is the problematic wooden surfacing, replaced by hard-wearing composite material. A substantial grant was obtained, enabling the complete replacement.

FAMILY WALKABOUT QUIZ

Thank you to all who attended and supported this Jubilee event. There were two teams who could not be split so we had joint winners. The Linnell-Johnson team and the Twigg team. Congratulations to both.

Editor's Note: Whilst the weather for the Jubilee Sunday wasn't the best for a wander around the village, a number of intrepid family groups did enjoy the Walkabout - a great way to focus on parts of the village that we may pass every day but don't really notice... Many thanks to Derek for organising it and providing the prizes.

BUGLE POSTBAG

From Theresa Phillips, Church Lane

It was disappointing to see so few people at the Jubilee Lunch in the Village Hall especially after the great turnout for the beacon lighting. The Parish Council and others had gone to great lengths to make this a festive occasion and those of us who participated thoroughly enjoyed it.

Our thanks must go to the members of the Parish Council for all their hard work and commitment to the village not just for the Jubilee weekend but also throughout the year.

WHAT IS LOTTERY FRAUD?

People are still being caught out by wily fraudsters...

Criminals will contact unsuspecting victims informing them they have won a lottery or prize draw. The victim is then informed that they will need to pay an advance fee in order to receive their winnings. In reality, the winnings are non-existent and it is an attempt to steal the victims money, personal or financial information.

Between April and October 2021, Action Fraud received 629 reports of lottery fraud, with 89 per cent of reports mentioning well-known prize draws. Impersonation of People's Postcode Lottery accounted for almost half (49 %) of all reports. Almost three quarters of victims (70 %) were aged over 50, with those aged over 65 accounting for 40 % of reports. Fraudsters use gift cards as a form of payment, as they can be easily redeemed and sold on. Moreover, the criminals don't need the physical card to redeem the value as they ask the victims to share the serial code on the back of the card with them. In other instances, victims reported being asked for personal and financial information in order to obtain their alleged winnings. Some victims reported providing their bank details thinking they would be sent a small payment to verify the account. In reality, criminals will use these details to steal the victim's money.

How to protect yourself

Stop: Unsolicited offers of large sums of money in return for a small up-front payment should always raise a red flag. Take a moment to stop and think before parting with your money or information.

Challenge: Could it be fake? Remember, you can't win a prize in a competition you didn't enter. It's okay to reject, refuse or ignore any requests. Only criminals will try to rush or panic you

Protect: If you think you've been a victim of fraud, contact your bank immediately and report it to Action Fraud online at actionfraud.police.uk or by calling 0300 123 2040.

You can find further protection advice around lotteries and competition on the Gambling Commission's website.

WILD ABOUT BOSWORTH

Lords-and-Ladies, cuckoo-pint Arum maculatum

Due to its association with the erotic, care must be taken when writing about Lords-and-Ladies... For example, the 'pint' part of its name (rhymed with mint), as it stems from 'pintle', penis. Unsurprisingly, most rural communities have a local name for the plant. Over 150 of them at one count, including Naked Boys and Willy Lily!

Purportedly an aphrodisiac, without careful preparation it is extremely toxic. Symptoms experienced after ingestion, include irritation to the mouth, swollen throat, difficulty breathing and upset stomachs and side-effects which are perhaps uncondusive to an enjoyable romantic liaison...

It favours growing in shady borders and woodland locations. In the spring, it grows a leaf-like sheath, called a 'spathe'. Hidden within the spathe is a purple or yellow spike which is known as a 'spadix'. Reproduction of Lords-and-Ladies is complicated. It begins when the spadix heats up and releases amine molecules. The resulting fetid smell attracts tiny flies, known as owl midges, into the spathe. Initially, these visitors are entrapped and pollinate the receptive female flowers. A day later, the male flowers mature and the flies are released to carry away pollen. As the fruit ripens the spathe falls away to reveal the autumnal stalk of bright red berries.

Herbalists found many uses for the plant. Its caustic leaf juice was used on warts, rheumatism and as an anti-ageing treatment, while root extract was used to treat asthma, scurvy, wind and hangovers. In the 18th and 19th centuries street vendors sold a drink called 'saloop', which was made from washed and roasted root fibres, though it fell out of favour when its consumption became associated with the treatment of venereal disease.

Finally, it is interesting to consider how the myth that young ladies could become pregnant, simply by looking at the plant, entered popular culture!

BOSWORTH SKY AT NIGHT

Astronomy from your Backyard

With the night sky a dim twilight at this time of year let us do some day-time astronomy and observe the Sun. A warning though: NEVER look directly at the Sun through binoculars, a telescope or even with the naked eye. There is a good chance you will damage your eyesight, even permanently blind yourself. This is no idle warning!

The best and safe way to observe the Sun is to project its image onto a screen. The picture shows a screen-box made from white/black craft card with 10x50mm binoculars on a tripod, which projects a 50mm diameter image of the Sun onto the 'screen'. The rectangular box is 53cm long x 20cm square with one side missing to look at the Sun's image.

Using the screen box we can observe sunspots on the surface of the Sun and see how they develop and disappear over time. The Sun spins on its axis one revolution in 28 days, so a long-lived sunspot could appear at one side of the Sun and disappear at the other side of the Sun after 14 days. Most sunspots don't last that long at the moment as the Sun is coming out of sunspot minimum in its 11

The picture shows the Sun at maximum sunspot activity as it will be in 2025 when the Sun becomes most active. The Sun is 55 times bigger than our Earth so as a comparison the Earth would be about the size of one of the smaller sunspots in the picture! It's pretty awesome how big the Sun is. The Sun is at the centre of our Solar System. It is a near perfect ball of hot plasma heated to incandescence by nuclear fusion reactions in its core with a surface temperature of about 5,500°C.

Sunspots are areas that appear dark on the surface of the Sun because they are cooler than other parts of the Sun's surface, albeit they are still in the region of 3,700°C, which is double the temperature of molten lava from a volcano. It is thought sunspots are caused by areas of increased magnetic field in the Sun's atmosphere.

Next month - August: the Summer Triangle and maybe a Star Party?

SCHOOL REPORT

HUSBANDS BOSWORTH C. of E. PRIMARY SCHOOL Head Teacher Alan Eathorne

FARM SCHOOL BOSWORTH

Husbands Bosworth Primary School is setting its sights on becoming a 'Farm School, '...that supports nature, the countryside and farming'. As such, the school has taken the decision to actively encourage and weave agricultural learning into the curriculum and school life.

Head teacher, Alan Eathorne explained, "Being a small school within a village setting, we wanted to incorporate a strand of learning that our children and their parents could relate to, one that reflected our heritage. We have many families who are farmers, or who work in industries associated with agriculture - even the name of our village links back to animal husbandry - and therefore the idea of becoming a farm school was born. We have already formed a partnership with Mini Meadows Farm at Welford, where our pupils' work is on display and the children have named and sponsored a cow there."

After the summer holidays, we plan to visit the farm regularly for lessons and invite different farming groups and our families into school to deliver assemblies and share their stories with us, as we grow to develop a deeper understanding of farming life and the issues affecting it. If there are any farmers who would like to support our work, we'd be delighted to hear from them, especially as we hope to have tractors days, animal feeding days and possibly even house our own chickens in time."

The school, in the heart of the village, dates back to 1858 and has served the local community for generations.

School is open for families for casual visits throughout the school year and will be holding an Open Morning on October 4th for prospective parents looking for a 2023 school place. To find out more or to book in please contact the Office on 01858 880212 or office@hbs.learnat.uk

BYGONE BOSWORTH

Images from the Historical Society's Archive Collection

Sheepdog trials were first recorded at Husbands Bosworth in 1905 in conjunction with various other sporting events in a village gala day, in which form they continued until 1908 when the Bosworth Gala was discontinued. These trials attracted competitors from as far afield as the north of England, and Wales. A local class for farmers and shepherds within the radius of the Fernie & Pytchley Hunts was held following the Open Class.

The Bosworth trials were revived in 1936, in conjunction with the British Legion Flower Show by local auctioneer and valuer, Alec McTuck of Blaston, who was particularly keen to include those farmers who had recently settled in the Welland valley from Wales. The event successfully drew competitors from far afield and was held in the grounds of Husbands Bosworth Hall.

The continuation of the sheep dog trials after the war attracted competitors from further afield. Competitors from Scotland, Wales and across the length and breadth of England were attracted to these excellent trials, which soon became an important 'feeder' into the national and later, the international trialling circuit.

Due in part to the interest generated by the One Man and His Dog BBC TV series, sheep dog trialling has developed into a great spectator event and as we note elsewhere in this issue, the Bosworth trials are open to the public this year on Saturday, July 30th. The competition, in both local and open classes is strictly structured into testing elements, the out-run, lift, fetch and pen to test the competence of the handler and the compliance of the dogs and their 'quarry'...

Come along and admire the skill of the handlers, the agility of the dogs... probably spiced with the odd incidence of taciturn sheep!

The captioning of this photograph from the early days of the Trials in Bosworth betray the Welsh influence within the competition.. Jones, Evans and Morgan featuring heavily in the line-up.

SCOUTING FOR BOSWORTH

The 1st Kilworth Scout Group held their AGM at the end of May, which included a fund raising BBQ, something we've not been able to do in three years. It was good to see so many families there supporting the group and thankfully as in past years the rain held off so that we could enjoy the early summer sun. Other recent funding activities have included a book sale organized by the Scouts, which raised £200 for Ukraine.

In June our Beavers, with the Lutterworth Beavers had a very enjoyable visit to the Arla dairy farm at North Kilworth. They found out how the whole milking process works and the Beavers thoroughly enjoyed it all. The cows wondered what they had done to deserve all the attention though! The farmers were absolutely brilliant with the children and patiently answered all their questions.

As mentioned previously, we're on the lookout for more adult volunteers to help out with our Cubs and Scouts sections. We know everyone leads busy lives, but to volunteer a couple hours a week makes a big difference in the lives of these young people, so we greatly appreciate the time our adult volunteers are able to give.

We're especially interested in getting more dads involved. In particular, we're looking for a new Group Scout Leader, whose main job is the management of the adult volunteers and serving on the Executive Committee in administration of the group. If you are interested, please get in touch: kilworth@southleics-scouts.org.uk.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH NEWS

Recently I visited my Mom in Scotland. She has early-stage mental impairment so gets a little confused and can't remember new information. One of her weekly activities is to meet up with a walking group. This group offers support to people with a variety of different mental health issues and also is a place for those who just want to meet with others socially and to get some fresh air and exercise. As I was visiting her, I went along with her to the group.

It was a great walk, through some lovely wooded spaces and we were blessed with warm sunshine. As part of the walk, we did a mindfulness exercise, which was relaxing and calming. Afterwards I spoke with one of the walk leaders who had led the mindfulness exercise. We chatted and he told me, in a broad Glaswegian accent, that his main source of income was as a shamanic healer.

This took me somewhat aback, for I grew up in that Central Scotland, working-class, former coalmining town. The idea that in that very ordinary, no-nonsense town, that someone could now make a living as a shamanic healer was completely incongruous and unexpected.

As I reflected on this experience, I was reminded of a quote attributed to G K. Chesterton, "When men stop believing in God, they don't believe in nothing; they believe in anything".

As the amazing story of Jesus with its message of hope, reconciliation with God, the recovery of meaning and purpose in life, disappears from the public consciousness, what we find is not that people now believe in nothing, but rather that they believe in anything.

There has never been a community of humans discovered that wasn't also a community of worship. Someone has quipped that our species shouldn't be called Homo Sapiens (Latin for 'Wise Man') but rather Homo Adorans ('Worshipping Man')!

I wonder what it is that you worship? Which is another way of asking 'What is your first priority in life?' Is that thing worthy of your worship? Does worshipping it make you a better or worse person? What is the end of your worship? Where will your worship take you?

I invite you to contrast that with what worshipping Jesus will do for you and in you; and not just for time but for eternity. For Christians, worship is, at its heart, the state of being rightly oriented towards reality. For the God we worship is so amazing, so awesome, so transcendent, so majestic, that if we are correctly oriented to Him we will obviously be in a state of worship. C. S. Lewis once wrote that when we are worshipping God it is the one time in our lives when we absolutely know that we are doing the right thing.

Certainly, worship is more of an attitude of life than a specific activity. We can worship God by the way in which we do everyday things - as a way of giving of our very best, fulfilling our best potential, as a means to bless and help others. And certainly worship is expressed in anything when the motivation behind it is a desire to please God and to do what He would have us do.

But we also do worship God when we gather in church. And you are warmly invited to join in any of the services in the Hexagon Benefice. Come and worship with us. God bless.

ST. MARY'S NEWS

Mass continues each Sunday at 11.00am.

In June we had a joint prayer walk in the village with members from All Saints C of E Church. Over the Summer, when Fr Matthew is away we have visiting clergy covering. Fr Kevin, who is an army chaplain and Fr David, who is retired will be warmly welcomed.

We are hoping to start a midweek Mass in the Autumn to expand the provision at St Mary's Church. We are forming a Pastoral Council which will enable those who belong to St Mary's to have a say in the life of the community and also oversee the finances etc. This is an important part of our development as a vibrant Christian community at St Mary's
