

WELCOME TO 2025...

As the Bugle heads into a new production year, we would like to thank our regular sponsors and advertisers for their continued support.

The Bugle is produced by volunteers, with the support of the wider community and is delivered to every home in the village, free of charge.

We have been fortunate, over the years, to have established a strong working relationship with our printers, BananaPrint in Market Harborough, producing a high-quality full colour newsletter on time each month, often to tight deadlines.

Our printers have always done us 'a good deal' on print costs but recent unavoidable increases now threaten to put the future of the Bugle in jeopardy.

We can look at several options to keep us going...

We can reduce the number of pages - but this can only be done by losing four pages, which reduces our advertising space.

We could increase the number of adverts that we accommodate and reduce the comment and interest items - but we don't want to become an advertising sheet: the Swift Flash and Commercial Break do that.

We could increase the advertising rates - but we want to support our local businesses at a reasonable cost.

We could seek sponsorship from the local activity and interest groups that we promote regularly in the Bugle.

And, we could also seek support from any individuals who appreciate what we do...

When we started the Bugle, back in 1996, there were few alternative sources of information relating to village activities and events; no social media options. We like to think that a printed copy still has relevance today, and of course, delivered to every home, it reaches parts that other media may not get to!

If you would like more information about keeping the Bugle going, have any ideas of how we might continue to fund production or simply to make a donation to the cause, please email: m.forman@talk21.com or call/text 07714 025566

CALL FOR SITES

Husbands Bosworth Parish Council is reviewing the Neighbourhood Plan, which was 'made' in 2019. Harborough District Council has already determined that it is likely that further development will be needed within the Parish in the coming years. As a community, we have the opportunity to decide the type of development, where it takes place and its character.

Allocating sites for residential, and commercial development through the Plan also secures additional powers and will continue to be used by Harborough District Council to determine planning applications in the parish.

To enable the Parish Council to make an informed decision on potential allocations, it is contacting landowners who own or control land within or adjacent to the built-up area and the wider parish. At this time, the Parish Council is only inviting informal Expressions of Interest for the potential release of development land. Any land that is offered up more formally at a later stage would need to progress through the normal planning process and satisfy the relevant local and national planning rules that may be in place at that time.

Everyone will have further opportunity to comment on this and all Neighbourhood Plan policies prior to its finalisation and submission to Harborough District Council.

If you haven't been contacted and think this review may be relevant to you please contact Derek Watson, Clerk to HBPC by Friday 21st February 2025.

BUGLE POSTBAG

From Glyn Owen, Launde

A big thank you from Taffy's family to all the villagers who came to his funeral and provided a huge amount of support and help to make the day special and memorable - community spirit and friendship at its very best. I think he would have approved!

Many people from the village played a part: the church wardens for preparing the church; the bell ringers; the Legion, led by Nobby, a lifelong friend of the family, providing a guard of honour; the use of the Village Hall, where my father spent many happy hours over the years, the help from Sue and Heather in setting up the Hall and the refreshments, and many others in tidying up afterwards; Melvyn for providing the display, which proved to be very popular, with a number of people asking for a copy; Christian for making sure everything went smoothly with the refreshments and to everyone who came and provided support. We think there were about 170 in the church - a fitting tribute!

The funeral was live-streamed and many watched it from places as far flung as Australia, Thailand, Belgium and the Netherlands, as well around the UK, including of course Wales. We have also been touched by the generosity of donations to our chosen charity, the RAF Association - the total is over £1,000.

On behalf of the family, I offer our sincere thanks for all that the villagers contributed to make the day memorable and one that would have made my father proud.

[Editor's Note: A video of Taffy's funeral service can be viewed at: <https://tinyurl.com/4682w29t>]

From Alisa Harvey, Hunters Close

I just wanted to write in praise of the team that came to sort out the overflowing sewer in Dag Lane recently.

I phoned Anglian Water to report the issue and a team attended within 2 hours of my call. My main concern was the environmental hazard from the raw sewage covering the public footpath and collecting in an ankle deep flood in Dag Lane. The teams worked for 6 ½ hours and called to explain that the drain was still blocked with an unidentified item, which they could not see clearly with the camera.

They returned the next day and called to explain that the cause of the blockage was caused by a drain-rod end tangled with cleaning cloths and sanitary items!

Through the Bugle, could I encourage the community to call Anglian Water to deal with drainage issues professionally rather than trying to deal with drains themselves? Also can we highlight the problems that disposing of fibre cloths, etc. down the toilet cause to the mains drains? The village drains are under huge pressure to cope with increased housing and severe weather these days, so we don't need to add to their burden.

One final point - I learnt that in Husbands Bosworth Severn Trent Water are responsible for drains dealing with rain water run off flooding whilst Anglian Water are responsible for sewerage drainage. Drainage issues call 0345 145145.

From Anthony Tallis

The outpouring of love and solidarity we have received following the sudden passing of our father, John Tallis in October, has provided us with invaluable strength and comfort at this difficult time. Heartfelt thanks also to everyone who made donations to the Air Ambulance Service in John's memory. These generous contributions are a beautiful way to honour John's legacy, while supporting a vital service that impacts our rural community. With heartfelt gratitude, Dawn, Anthony, Claire and Bracken the dog

BOSWORTH IN FOCUS

WILD ABOUT BOSWORTH

Whilst walking across the dam on a post-Christmas ramble around Sulby reservoir, we came across a diving bird as it emerged from the fog. Without the slightest ripple the bird disappeared silently several times into the leaden water, reappearing after half a minute, always where we weren't looking, yards away from its dive point, in the gloom.

In the grey of the day it was difficult to make out many features or colour but after a while the identity of the bird became clear, partly by its size but mainly by its diving habit... a Great Crested Grebe. The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds describes the Great Crested Grebe as an elegant waterbird with decorative head plumes for which it was once hunted, almost wiping out the UK population. Great Crested Grebes dive to feed and also to escape, preferring this to flying. They are rarely seen on land, where they are clumsy because their feet, more suited to propelling the bird in the water, are placed so far back on their bodies. They have an elaborate mating display which sees them rise out of the water and shake their heads, often displaying together with their prospective mate.

Length 45-55cm Wing span: 80 - 90cm.

Footnote: Just as we were about to leave, a flock of white in the meadow below the dam caught our eye - a Little Egret stalking through the tussocky grass...

AND THE WINNERS ARE:

A big thank you to everyone who entered the Bugle Festive Quiz.

In a tightly fought contest our entrants proved, once again, to be as equally devious as our compiler...

The winners were: Caroline Burford and Liz McKenzie, who narrowly beat Mike and Beryl Pennington, Amanda Parker and The Lawrences.

The answers will be available on-line at: www.husbandsbosworth.info shortly.

Editor's Note: Many thanks to Ralph Horton, the compiler of the Bugle Special Festive Quiz - by our reckoning, his 29th quiz issue!

SCHOOL REPORT

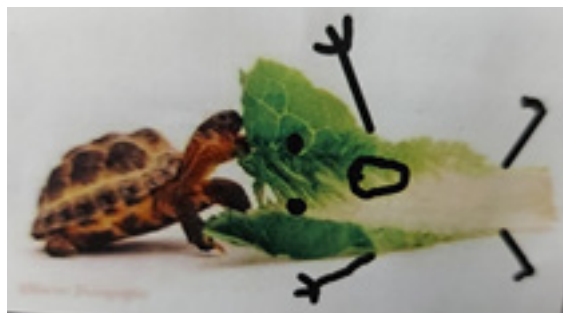

HUSBANDS BOSWORTH C. of E. PRIMARY SCHOOL Executive Head Alan Eathorne

We have had a brilliant start to 2025 with Creative Week. The theme this time was Digital Art.

Class 2's focus was on David Hockney. The children loved creating digital images of their chosen flowers using Paintzapp.

Class 3 used Jason Naylor as inspiration, using different media (highlighter, chalk, felt tips) to create their artworks, before using publishing software to create a digital version.

Class 4 studied the art work of Sean Chamatz - a digital media artist who brings life to everyday objects. They enjoyed using PowerPoint to capture his sense of playfulness brilliantly!

BYGONE BOSWORTH

Images from the Historical Society's Archive Collection

A recent 'newsy' email from an old friend and on-line Bugle reader in Texas, responding to a post on our Historical Society Facebook page, included a note that he had been given a teapot for Christmas. Our correspondent is Jon Krenytzky, who was 'billeted' briefly at the Fernie Lodge, when it was Hillsome House. Jon and his extensive family lived in Bosworth whilst his father was stationed at Bruntingthorpe US Air Force base from 1958 to 1962. In his email, Jon bemoans the fact that he was having difficulty sourcing genuine 'leaf' tea in Texas, in order to try out his newly acquired pot! He recalls, nostalgically, that his first encounter with leaf tea and teapots (and chamberpots...) was whilst living at Hillsome House. This reminded us of these pictures of a 'Bosworth' teapot, which we have in our Archive Image Collection.

These distinctive salt-glazed teapots would have been for decorative purposes and were often given as tokens within the boating community. They were typically made at Church Gresley in South Derbyshire, and sold by a retailer in the nearby village of Measham on the Ashby Canal and are thus usually referred to as Measham Ware.

Boatmen regularly carrying coal from the north Leicestershire coalfields would commission a special pot as a gift or fancy, usually with personalised decoration, to be given to a valued business associate, friend or relative. - our pictures show: Charles Dawes Husband Bosworth (note the misspelling!).

Charles Dawes was born in Husbands Bosworth in 1862, the son of Henry Dawes, agricultural labourer and sometime horse breaker. Charles himself is found through all the census records, residing in Husbands Bosworth, in the trade of bricklayer's labourer. However, by 1921 he was recorded as an unemployed invalid and died in February 1924.

Quite where Charles's standing was within Husbands Bosworth that would see his name on the side of a substantial piece of decorative art, we can only guess...

The legacy of these settlers can still be seen locally today in place names and customs.

The Foot and Calf Muscle Pump

Did you know that your foot and calf muscles are often called the 'second heart'? As the heart pumps oxygen-rich blood through your body it is helped by your foot muscles, keeping the oxygen-depleted blood flowing - against gravity. Your foot and calf muscles give the blood an extra push back to your heart. Because the calf muscles assist the heart in this way it is really important to keep them strong and healthy!

A study published in The Journal of Biomechanics found that those with chronic heart failure had smaller calf muscles than people with fully functional hearts. So, if you can keep your calf muscles strong and well-nourished, you can help your heart by improving what is called the 'venous return' from your lower extremities, and have a powerful impact on your overall health and well-being.

One of the best things you can do is walk. So it's time to get moving. The following exercises are also good - heel raises, lunges, toe walks, foot pumps and foot stretches.

If you feel you've overdone it and want to discuss a niggles or a twinge, call us on 07789 248 33. Or email me at: hello@patricialavelle.co.uk

CHURCH NEWS

All Saints Parish Church & St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church

ALL SAINTS CHURCH NEWS

The Epiphany Secret Code

Some sharp-eyed among you may have noticed mysterious chalked writing, being scrawled above doors around the village.

20+C+M+B+25

What does it mean? Well, for hundreds of years Christians have sought God's blessing on their homes and workplaces by marking above the doors with this sequence of letters and numbers. The first and last two-number groups indicate the year, in this case 20 and 25. The three letters indicate the traditional names for the Wise Men, or magi who came to see Jesus when he was born. Tradition states they were called Caspar, Melchior and Balthazar, so that gives us the three letters.

But there is a secret second meaning... Those letters can also stand for a Latin blessing 'Christus Mansionem Benedicat' ('May Christ bless this house').

Each of these is separated by a cross - the most important symbol in the Christian Faith and the centre point of human history. The moment when our sins and failures were dealt with by Jesus, God-himself dying for us, so that we might once again be reconciled to him as his beloved children.

When we chalk this inscription over our homes, we are asking God to be present in our homes, to help us to live together well, to love and forgive each other and to want the best for each other. And we are asking for God's peace and presence to fill our homes.

If you haven't done so yet, why not mark the epiphany blessing above your door? Who knows how God might respond to you welcoming him into your home? Stephen ✠

CHRISTMAS TREE FESTIVAL

Our Christmas Tree Festival, the first since 2019, was very successful, attracting many entries and brightening up the church.

We had many new entries from folk who had never entered before, and also some 'old faithfuls'! We had visitors not only from the village, but also further afield - the Christmas cake was won by a gentleman from Kibworth. Many thanks to the ladies serving the refreshments, who did a wonderful job keeping everyone fed and watered! A very worthwhile £2000 was raised.

So, start thinking of your display for next year!
